TRIP ITINERARY

*Weather: Iceland is a land of very mixed weather. If you don't like the weather, wait for ten minutes! Usually the spring brings higher pressure and settled weather, but be prepared for everything from calm, sunny days, to blowing blizzards. If the weather becomes unsafe there is a possibility that we sail back to the town of Isafjordur and ski tour the amazing options near the town via the alternate transportation. Please note that all ski plans are subject to change based on weather and conditions!

May 4 - Meet Keely's Camp at the Denver International Airport (DEN) (fly or drive) before 2PM.

*Meeting Place - Icelandair Ticketing (refer to where do I meet in Denver above) Check into our Icelandair flight and depart for Reykjavik.

May 5 - Arrive in Reykjavik early Sunday morning, go through Customs, take the Flybus transfer to the Domestic Airport in Reykjavik, fly or drive (conditions dependent) to Isafjordur, tour the beautiful and oldest town in Iceland, Isafjordur!

May 7 - Dock Orientation with Siggi our boat captain.

Depart from Ísafjörður between 2-4pm, with 2-4 hours of sailing to Hesteyri in the Hornstrandir Nature Reserve. We will relax and anchor and maybe explore on the Zodiac and take a look at the old whaling station that once was the driving force in this now abandoned settlement. Since it will still bright in the evening during the latter part of the season, we will then have an option to do a short ski run.

May 8 - We'll begin the day with a safety briefing, companion rescue exercises, and recap of skills learned in the Montana camp. We will then tour from Hesteyrarfjörður to Veiðileysufjörður. The climb up Hesteyrarfjörður is easy and the ski slopes on the other side offer many possibilities. Dinner will be at anchor in Veiðileysufjörður.

May 9 - Tour to Lónafjörður (Lagoon fjord). We begin the day by climbing up to one of the saddles to take a look at the bays on the north side. We then ski down to the first valley in Lónafjörður and climb at least two more mountains before meeting Aurora again in the afternoon.

May 10 - Here, we normally spend an extra day at the beautiful Rangali anchorage. There are endless opportunities for skiing. From steep couloirs to rolling hills. One route will take us to the Snókur mountain with a good view of the coastal mountains on the east side of Hornstrandir. Often there is an opportunity to pick mussels for an après ski snack!

May 11 - Today we skin up from the Sópandi inlet and over to Hrafnfjörður (Raven Fjord). The mountain cirque at the head of the fjord is beautiful and the anchorage is a perfect spot to spend the night.

May 12 - We will have a morning ski session before sailing back to Ísafjörður, with arrival around 4pm in the afternoon.

We will catch the last flight from Ísafjörður that night to Reykjavik. Spend the night in Reykjavik, tour city, pack for international flight to Denver the next day.

May 13 - Tour Reykjavik and take Flybus transfer @ 12:30pm to Reykjavik International Airport (KEF), depart Iceland early afternoon for the United States, Denver.

Customs: We land in Denver in the evening. If you are flying your daughter domestically home from Denver please make sure you give her 2 hours to get through customs booking a flight home no earlier than 9:30pm. If you cannot find a flight, which is highly likely, for her on May 13th she will have the option of staying Sunday night with Keely's Camp.

Please book the earliest flight available out of Denver on Monday morning May 14th.

IMPORTANT EQUIPMENT INFO

PRE PAY FOR BAGGAGE ONLINE:

Icelandair asks if you would like to prepay for your skis, please prepay for her skis (it's cheaper!) when you buy her flights on both her International Flights and Domestic Flights. This will make traveling with our group smoother and more efficient.

BACKCOUNTRY SETUP:

Keely's Camp will be traveling with Blizzard Zero G's with Marker Kingpin Bindings, skins, and ski crampons for those girls who will be needing a setup. If you have a backcountry setup please pack and bring your own setup.

*Please let us know as soon as you can if you have your own backcountry set up (skis, boots, skins).

SKI BOOTS: Make sure you rent or buy compatible boots for the Marker Kingpin binding if you are using a Keely's Camp Blizzard setup. We recommend the Scarpa Maestrale, Scarpa Gea, or Tecnica Zero G.

Note: Keely's Camp Backcountry setup is AWESOME! The Blizzard Zero Gs are light, durable, and easy to use. If you have a heavy or old backcountry setup we highly recommend you use our backcountry setup as we will be climbing and skinning extensive mountains in Iceland.

The camp is not covering meals & snacks off the boat or extra tours/activities in Isafjordur or Reykjavik or the Airport Hotel in Denver on May 13th.

Money in Iceland

- Icelanders love credit cards. They use them everywhere! We highly recommend a travel credit card. Keely's Camp will be carrying emergency cash as well.
- Remember to tell your credit card company your international travel dates before leaving so the card isn't cancelled!

Learn Before You Go

Before you travel to a new country learning about the country's culture and history is very important and FUN! We know you are in school and super busy; however below is one book (super short and fun read for the plane), a Nat Geo Documentary, & the 'Annual Report from the Aurora Arktika Sailboat.'
